

Distribution of per-column directional change θ_j (pooled over all target layers)

A long right tail = a few columns rotate a lot (sparse/localized update). A concentrated body near 0 = most columns barely move.